

Sustainability Policy- Hoffmaster Group, Inc.

Hoffmaster Group, Inc. (HGI) is committed to the goals of sustainable development, recycling of paper products, and promoting responsible resource management and use.

To help achieve these goals, Hoffmaster Group, Inc. has been certified to the Sustainable Forestry Initiative® (SFI) Certified Sourcing Standard since 2012. The scope of registration includes plates, cups, napkins, table covers, table skirts, placemats, and other disposable tabletop products produced at our three (3) Specialty Disposable Tabletop facilities located in Oconto, Oshkosh, and Clintonville, WI; one (1) paper straw manufacturing facility located in Fort Wayne, IN; and one (1) additional production site in Somersworth, NH.

The company is also certified to the Forest Stewardship Council® (FSC) Chain of Custody, Sustainable Forestry Initiative® (SFI) and the PEFC™ Chain of Custody requirements in 2019, at our three (3) Specialty Disposable Tabletop manufacturing facilities located in Oconto, Oshkosh, Clintonville, WI and one (1) paper straw manufacturing facility located in Fort Wayne, IN. This allows the company to meet customer needs through three globally-recognized forest and Chain of Custody certification programs.

HGI employs and promotes environmentally, socially and economically sustainable procurement practices to meet the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their needs. This is accomplished by practicing and promoting a conservation stewardship ethic. We promote the principles of sustainable development, recycling and composting. Many of our Specialty Disposable Tabletop Products have been tested and certified to be compostable when composted in municipal or commercial composting facilities.

To help implement and achieve the above sustainability, recycling and composting objectives, HGI has developed and adopted appropriate programs, plans and procedures to guide its paper procurement practices, product claims and labels. HGI is committed to periodically reviewing the effectiveness of its policy and programs and to continually improving its management systems and environmental performance.

In addition to responsibly sourcing its materials, HGI also recognizes that its people are key resources in its efforts to be a successful organization. To that end, the health and safety of HGI employees is of primary concern. HGI follows all OSHA regulations, trains employees on those regulations and in general to work safely, and tracks and actively manages safety incidents when they occur. Each of our operating divisions has an appointed Environmental, Health and Safety Manager to oversee all associated activities in this area.

Hoffmaster is committed to promoting occupational health and safety. The organization seeks to operate a safe and healthy workplace, consistent with Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) rules and regulations and the Chain of Custody requirements.

Hoffmaster demonstrates that commitment through the HR Manager, by its designation of a safety representative company-wide and at each facility, by its adoption of a safety program, the training of staff on occupational health and safety (OHAS), a safety policy, safety meetings, safety sign-in sheets, and compliance with U.S. OSHA standards. The company further provides evidence through the Lost Workday Case Rate (LWCR) and the OSHA 300 Annual Log of the company's posted injuries. Occupational Health and Safety records are available for inspection by the Certification Body, upon request.

Sincerely,
